

What is the Broadband for the Bush Alliance?

The Broadband for the Bush Alliance is a group of organisations that are committed to the digital inclusion of remote and rural Australia. The Alliance brings together a range of stakeholders with expertise in communications, remote service delivery, and community engagement.

Membership

Membership is open to organisations and individuals who have an interest in digital communications in remote and rural Australia. The Alliance represents remote Australian stakeholders and does not represent telecommunications infrastructure providers, communications service providers or governments.

Why join?

By joining the Alliance you strengthen the voice of remote Australia by having your say on the digital challenges facing remote Australia. Be an active participant to find practical solutions to some of the real barriers to digital inclusion and connectivity.
